- Just walking down the street, while keeping one eye on the sidewalk to make sure you don't run into anything

Step 1. Printing this manual on a 2D printer

Connect your computer to your 2D printer and print this document on 8.5" x 11" paper as a booklet. Fold the piece of paper in half. Then prepare to build a case that will change the way you play Clash forever.

Step 2. Downloading the 3D printer files

Visit the Clash of Clans official blog to download the 3D printer files which will comprise your case. Unzip them onto your hard drive.

Step 3. Modifying the phone clip to fit your phone

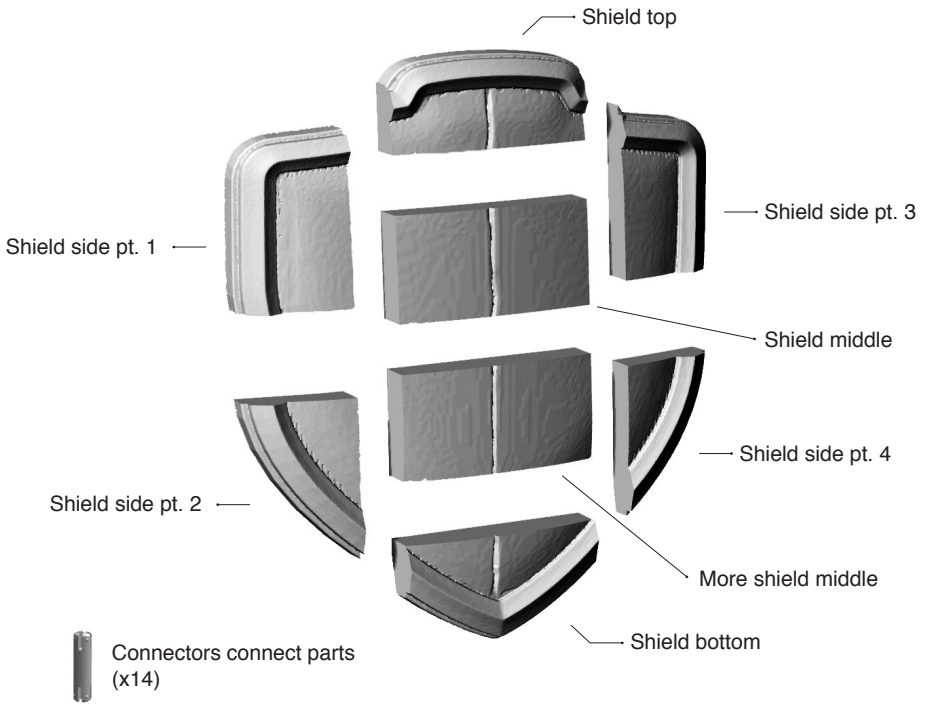

Open the "PhoneCase" model with your favorite 3D modelling software. This is the piece that will hold your actual phone in the case. The default size is 5.44" (138.3mm) x 2.64" (67.1mm). If you need a different size, you can add or subtract material to the recess to fit the size of your phone, while keeping everything outside of the recess the same size.

Step 4. Printing your Clash of Clans Phone Case

Load all of the files from Step 2 and your modified file from Step 3 into your favorite 3D printing software. Follow the instructions from the manufacturer of your 3D printer to connect your computer to your 3D printer. Send each part of the case to said 3D printer to be printed. Print the "Connector" 14 times.

Step 5. Assembling your Clash of Clans Phone Case

Once you have all the pieces printed, simply assemble them in any order using your printed connectors.

Step 6. Painting your Clash of Clans Phone Case

Below are the official colors for each part of your case, Model #003: Shield from the Clash of Clans Logo.

- Rim: Gold*
- Front left: Brown*
- Front right: Dark Red*
- Arrow shaft: Brown*
- Fletching: Red*

Step 7. Play Clash of Clans with more style than ever before.
